2012 – The ECA’s Year in Review

This is what we did.

Whether volunteering as docents for the first annual garden walk, repairing the Metra underpass, or dropping off grocery bags at the Edgebrook Library to restock food pantries, the Edgebrook community displayed its true colors.

The Edgebrook Community Association’s goal is to improve our neighborhood. We work with neighborhood residents who participate, not because they have to, but because they want to. We sponsor general meetings, help our schools and library, augment snowplowing, garden, celebrate and do what we can to make our neighborhood a better place to live. Here’s what we did in 2012.

We gathered.

The ECA presented five general meetings in 2012. Open to the general public, these gatherings served to entertain and inform the neighborhood.

We talked real estate – Local real estate experts and Dennis Rodkin from Chicago magazine discussed the state of real estate in Edgebrook.

We took photos – Wayne Ross helped us to improve our photography skills by sharing his expertise.

We bopped – The Old Town School of Folk Music’s Mark Dvorak had us singing along at a special family-friendly concert featuring songs from the American songbook.

We listened to Lou – Radio and TV personality Lou Manfredini explained why our homes are still our best investment.

We worked as a community – The Neighborhood Connection Project gave us an update on the progress of the Metra tunnel repair and beautification program.

We partnered.

We went to Oz – The ECA sponsored a program for families that brought the land of Oz to life. Two Witches retold the Oz story from their point of view and asked, “Whose ruby slippers are those?”

We read – We were especially pleased to sponsor the Summer Reading Program, You Are What You Read. Over 17,000 books were consumed by 681 neighborhood children. By our math, that’s nearly 25 books a reader!

We rallied.

To celebrate the expansion of Edgebrook School, the ECA helped the school acquire a trophy case to display the rewards of academic and sports excellence.

We celebrated.

We marched – The July 4th Parade and Picnic is our neighborhood’s big event. Even with record-breaking temperatures, we celebrated our nation’s birthday in force.

We welcomed spring – Several thousand eggs filled with candy disappeared at the annual Easter Egg Hunt.

We made merry – This year’s Holiday Party featured crafts for the kids, a visit from the “Real” Santa, a firepit, warm drinks and homemade pizza, sandwiches, and gingerbread men. We lit the triangle and we caroled our hearts out.

We showed off.

In June, the ECA inaugurated the Edgebrook Garden Walk. Neighbors proudly opened their gardens to the community. Participants were able to enjoy over a dozen gardens in Edgebrook, Wildwood and Old Edgebrook.

We advised.

We helped our aldermen decide zoning issues that impacted our neighborhood and discussed ideas about reclaiming our downtown.

We saved trees.

When trees in our forest preserve were scheduled to be removed, the ECA took action to encourage sensible management. We’re happy to report that trees and shrubs have been planted at the bird sanctuary near the Volunteer Resource Center and 125 trees were planted at Bunker Hill.

We planted.

Our master gardeners planted nearly 1,000 bulbs and 150 native perennials at the triangle (Lehigh, Devon and Caldwell).

We also did important things like...

Saying hello when we met on the street; picking up litter; planting a tree; holding the door for a neighbor; flashing a smile; attending a scouting pancake breakfast; supporting a local business; stopping for a pedestrian in the crosswalk; thanking a librarian; buying Girl Scout cookies; judging a school’s science fair...these are the things that make our community a special place.

We say thank you and ask for your continued support.

Each year we ask Edgebrook residents to support their community by pledging $30 to the Edgebrook Community Association, which allows us to accomplish our goals.

We are proud of our community and promise to continue to be a voice for Edgebrook, to offer exciting meetings and neighborhood gatherings, and to continue the fine tradition of community service.

Visit <http://edgebrookcommunity.org> to contribute online or check your mailbox for your membership kit.

We are your neighbors.

Thank you, 2012 Garden Walk Contributors
